

THE PSYCHOANALYTIC THEORY OF THE NEUROSIS LECTURES

A series of 10 lectures by Humberto Nagera MD :

- 1.- Neurosciences and the Psychoanalytic Theory of the Neurosis
- 2.- Developmental Interferences, Develop. Conflicts, Neurotic Conflicts, The Infantile Neurosis, The Later Neurosis
- 3.- The Libidinal and Aggressive phases of Development and their role in the neurosis
- 4.- The Ego development (apparatuses and functions). The Defense mechanisms and their role in the neurosis
- 5.- Super-ego Development and Ego-ideal development and their role in conflict and the neurosis
- 6.- The development of the self and the object world. The concept of narcissism (primary & secondary). Role in psychopathology. Differences with neurosis

THE PSYCHOANALYTIC THEORY OF THE NEUROSIS LECTURES

- 7.- The Role of the Oedipus Complex. The organizing role of the complex and of the phenomena of fixation and regression in the final form of the neurosis
- 8.- The assessment of the various types of conflicts and the role they play in the development of neurosis. The mechanisms of symptom formation in various forms of psychopathology
- 9.- The psychoanalytic theory of conflict . How to assess conflicts and their role in the development of neurosis.
Signal anxiety
- 10.- The motives of defence, the traumatic neurosis and the character disorders. The effect of chronic trauma in brain development

THE PSYCHOANALYTIC THEORY OF THE NEUROSIS LECTURES

LECTURE #1

Reflections on Neurosciences and Psychoanalysis

(Before watching this lecture you need to download and read the paper entitled “Reflections on Neurosciences and Psycho-analysis: Normality and Pathology in Development, Brain Stimulation, Programming and Maturation” that is available in this web page in the section General Lectures, subsection Papers)

Humberto Nagera M.D.

Lectures will be added every 15 days